

BAD MEN FIND EASY MEANS OF ESCAPE

K. Wilson and C. Dyer, the two alleged confidence men who were arrested yesterday after a young farmer complained that they had traded him a bad watch for a good one and $15, failed to appear in court this morning and forfeited $15 bail money each. Charges of vagrancy had been placed against them.

The coming of the men to Ogden had been announced by photographs sent out from Denver, from which place the two had received floaters. Their record there, accompanying the photographs, showed them to be old hands and not amateurs. Aside from that, Detective George Wardlaw recognized Dyer as a man arrested four years ago by Patrolman Crompton on suspicion of having held up a man in the rear of the Tabernacle. Dyer was the name given by the fellow and his photograph is in the local rogues' gallery. When he and Wardlaw had a little interview, the fellow readily admitted his identity and told the detective that he and his partner are on their way to the coast to make a living by their wits.

SECOND ARREST FOR SELLING LIQUOR

H. J. Peterson, a waiter, was arrested last night by Sergeant H. C. Peterson on the charge of illegally selling intoxicants. As this is the second arrest within a few weeks on the same charge, Peterson was compelled to place $100 as bail.

According to the complaint issued by the city attorney, H. J. Peterson "did sell and dispense to one Friend Alvord intoxicating liquor." The arrest was made at 264 Twenty-fifth street.

SECURING FUNDS FOR HEALTH WORK

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 11.—"Is it really impossible to get from the public treasury sufficient funds for public health work?" asked Mr. Lawrence Veller, director of the department of improving social conditions of the charity organization society of New York City in his paper on "Securing Funds for Public Health Work," delivered this afternoon before the sociological section of the American Public Health association. In answering his own question Mr. Veller described a campaign in New York City which cost $385.26 and which resulted in an actual increase in the appropriation for the New York City Health department of $263,500. This is equivalent, Mr. Veller pointed out, to the granting of a fund of five million dollars, the income of which was to be devoted to the prevention of tuberculosis. Similar successful campaigns for an increased appropriation of $169,000 to the Tenement House department of New York City, and a more recent campaign for an appropriation of $414,000 for Bedford Reformatory, were described by Mr. Veller.

"The moral of this plain tale from the hills is that the public official needs a 'wicked partner,'" said Mr. Veller. "Some one who will stand behind him and back him up, and do it all the time."

"It is entirely possible to get all the money you need for public health work, but you must show the fellow who holds the purse strings that the people want it. Few health officers can do this; they cannot with propriety carry on a campaign of acceleration such as I have described here. But there are any number of able men and women who can do this, and who will contribute money and time and thought and civic patriotism unceasingly. All that is needed is to annex them to the public health movement. Mr. Health Officer, why not try it?"

SEVEN PREACHERS RESIGN PULPITS

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 11.—Seven preachers have resigned their pastorates here since May 1, giving as their reason the high cost of living. One has become a traveling salesman, another has gone to an eastern church where the salary is larger, a third has taken an executive position in the business society of his church, a fourth is an instructor in a western college, a fifth is manager of a charitable institution, another has gone into the newspaper business and a seventh has become a real estate agent.

The pastor of the German Reformed church, who resigned last Sunday, asserting he could not live upon his stipend, announced today he was going to run a country newspaper.

Train Plunges Into Rock Slide Near Salida—Engine Killed, Fireman and Two Passengers Injured

Leadville, Colo., Sept. 11.—Engineer John Clem of Salida, Colo., was killed, the fireman and two passengers injured when the Leadville-Denver train of the Denver & Rio Grande railway plunged into a rock slide across the tracks a few miles west of Salida last night.

The engine, baggage car and one coach left the track. The engine overturned and breaking from the train, fell into the Arkansas river. A relief train was dispatched from Salida immediately upon report of the wreck.

Traffic on the main line of the Denver & Rio Grande will be blocked for more than eight hours.

"STRIKEBREAKER" FARLEY DEAD

New York, Sept. 11.—The death of James Farley, known through years of leadership as a strikebreaker in many cities of the United States and Canada, was reported early today from his home in Plattsburgh.

Farley boasted and was generally given the credit of starting the "industry of strikebreaking" from an altar boy at Malone, N. Y., where he was born 38 years ago. He turned to a circus runaway, became manager of an upstate hotel, and finally entered the service of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company as a coal passer from which he emerged in 1895 as leader of the non-union forces which broke the great Brooklyn car strike. His success in Brooklyn won him fame and to city after city where labor troubles arose he was called to do similar work until his business of strikebreaking and protecting lives and property developed into a systematic organization that for a time was the terror of strike agitators.

Farley's profit came by a premium of so much per head paid to him for the men whom he kept in service during strikes and in a few years he grew rich at his newly created business. He was credited with making $300,000 during the Interborough Rapid Transit strike in this city and still larger sums in later years, when he broke up strikes in Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Waterbury and many other places in this country and Canada.

Since his circus days Farley had been a horse fancier and during the latter part of his life he became the owner of a fine string of horses. He was such a thorough sportsman that during the last few weeks while knowing that death from tuberculosis would take him this fall, he insisted upon being carried from one upstate track to another where he lay beside the course on a cot and watched his favorite horses contend.

M'ALLISTER OUT OF MIDDLEWEIGHTS

San Francisco Sept. 11.—Announcement was made today by Al McAllister that his brother Bob, the Olympic club boxer, would no longer fight as a middleweight.

"Bob can't come in at 155 or 160 pounds and be strong enough to make a showing," he said. "There's no use attempting it. Bob is young, has a good frame and is growing fast. It's foolish to try to keep him in the middleweight limit. We made a mistake in the weight he made Tuesday for Petrovsky. The night before the fight he weighed 164 pounds. We brought him down to 161 1-4 before he went to bed, but it weakened him so much that the next morning he weighed only 158."

"At 164 pounds or thereabout, I'm sure he can make a good showing. However, he needs a long rest and we won't talk of any more matches for several months. There's no use considering Jimmy Clabby, as Bob couldn't make the weight that would be required and keep his strength."

EDWARDS IS TO SERVE 90 DAYS

A sentence of 90 days or $90 was given Ernest Edwards this morning by Judge W. H. Reeder, after finding the man guilty of petty larceny. Edwards was charged with taking a watch from Otto Fruit, who is almost blind. According to the testimony, the watch was found in Edwards' pocket but Edwards claimed he had bought the timepiece.

Upon motion of the assistant city attorney, the case against William Chail was dismissed. Chail was charged by C. W. Brooks with selling a spring wagon to Joe Harris for $350 when the wagon belonged to

FINED $700 BY MARSHALL FOR CONTEMPT

In the contempt case of E. E. Bingham in federal court, Judge John A. Marshall today found Bingham guilty and ordered that he pay the sum of $700 and interest to the referee in bankruptcy or be confined in the county jail. He was turned over to the custody of Sheriff DeVine. Bingham states that he will be able to raise the money in the course of a few days.

The facts of the case are that Bingham went into bankruptcy in 1911 and it was subsequently learned that he had come into possession of $700 which the referee ordered him to turn over in settlement of his debts. Bingham failed to obey the order and he was cited to appear before Judge Marshall and show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

Mr. Bingham claimed that the collection of the $700 was made by his wife and that he had no control over the money. Judge Marshall held, however, that he was guilty of contempt even if his wife did make the collection, as she acted as his agent.

Attorney W. W. Harcombe of this city was admitted to practice in the federal court, on motion of Attorney J. N. Kimball.
